

InterCity Leadership Visit

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY Sept. 25-27, 2019

PURPOSE: To expose Greater Waco leaders to innovative community and economic development ideas, programs, initiatives and best practices, which may be adapted and implemented in the Greater Waco area and to engage in high level networking among community leaders.

Louisville is home to the Kentucky Derby, iconic brands like KFC, Maker's Mark and Louisville Slugger, world-class companies like UPS, GE and Humana and more! It is a top 10 food city, a city of 21st Century Parks, and home to one of the best food neighborhoods in America and the largest disco ball manufacturer in the world.

People are friendly and compassionate, commutes are short, leadership is accessible, and quality of life is outstanding. Louisville, once a hidden secret, is now known as one of the top emerging markets.

Greater Louisville is known for its rich diversity of traditional and not-so-traditional cultural activities. In fact, Louisville is one of only nine U.S. cities with all the five major arts and offers a wide variety of festivals involving music, art, and cultural activities throughout the region. Along with arts and culture, Greater Louisville maintains thousands of acres of park land, including a large Waterfront Park and Walking Bridge that connects Downtown Louisville with Southern Indiana, scores of golf courses, unique music venues, as well as a world-class food & beverage scene.
