

OUR VISION: A BUTTERFLY GARDEN THAT HEALS

Leadership Waco is creating a therapeutic butterfly garden for the children of Talitha Koum Institute – a nonprofit dedicated to serving at-risk infants and preschoolers in Waco. This garden will be a vibrant space for healing, growth, and transformation.

Meet Talitha Koum Institute

Talitha Koum Institute is a faith-based mental health nurture center in Waco, Texas, focused on building resilient young brains and breaking the cycle of generational poverty. The Institute provides full-day, year-round care for children from birth to five years old who have experienced trauma, neglect, or other adverse early childhood experiences. Through sensory modulation, cognitive development programming, and deep relational support, Talitha Koum empowers children to thrive intellectually, emotionally, and socially.

WHY a Butterfly Garden?

- ✦ Emotional Healing: Calming nature space supports emotional regulation.
- ✦ Symbolic Growth: Butterflies represent the transformation these children are capable of.
- ✦ Hands-On Learning: Enhances cognitive development and curiosity.
- ✦ Sensory Support: Offers essential sensory engagement for children overcoming trauma.
- ✦ Safe Play: A nurturing, safe outdoor environment for exploration.

HOW Your Business Can Help
